Foreword

I am pleased to present to you the new edition of the Who is who of the European Forum of Official Gazettes.

Since its creation in 2004, the forum has been sharing ideas and information about the publication processes of the official gazettes in EU Member States and other European states.

With partners from 39 different countries, along with the EU Publications Office, the forum has been delivering success stories about sharing best practices among the official publishers year after year, such as the European legislation identifier (ELI).

The 14th plenary meeting of the Forum takes place in Malta, in the context of the 2017 Maltese Presidency of the Council of the European Union, under the title 'Closer and more relevant to our citizens'.

Once more, we have the opportunity to learn from each other, observe new technological advancements and define new goals and projects together.

In today's context of 'fake news' and the increasing importance of social media, our common challenge as official publishers is to provide citizens with authentic, trusted and quality information and publications.

I hope that this small publication can contribute to our common activities. Additional information about the forum can be found on the site www.forum-official-gazettes.eu, a tool for consultation of documents and for collaboration between forum members.

Under United Nation Security Council Resolution 1244*

The European Union is committed to protecting your privacy. Your data is covered by Regulation (EC) No 45/2001 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data by the Community institutions and bodies on the free movement of such data. The privacy statement explaining its application to the 'Who is who' of the European Forum of Official Gazettes can be found here:

<https://circabc.europa.eu/webdav/CircaBC/OPOCE/ojf/Information/prod/html/legal.htm>

The data in the Official Directory of the European Forum of Official Gazettes (OJ Forum — Who is who) are published to promote the transparency of the public institutions and to enable European citizens and persons and organisations interested in European affairs to find contact persons. Personal data are processed in compliance with the abovementioned regulation.

Your data will not be used by the Publications Office for any purposes other than the publication on the internet and in the printed directory, as well as on portable devices. It is strictly forbidden to use these data for direct marketing purposes. The data published are collected and supplied by the relevant institutions from their records or systems. The institutions refresh the data before publishing the printed directory.

If you feel, however, that the Publications Office has committed an error, you can turn to the controller in the Publications Office (see link below). You have the right to ask for rectification, deletion or an update of these data on the website and in the next edition of the directory, if justified. Please contact the controller in your institution for this or if you have any questions or complaints concerning the collection of data. If your question or complaint concerns the publishing activity of the Publications Office, you can contact the controller in the Publications Office by email:

forum-official-gazettes@publications.europa.eu

You can also address a complaint to the Commission's Data Protection Officer:
data-protection-officer@ec.europa.eu

or the European Data Protection Supervisor:
