We make innovation procurement easier to understand

Screenshot to come

EU is not innovating enough

- Current procurement processes are difficult and time consuming.

- Hard for new players such as startups to enter the field.

- Innovation procurement answers some of the needs but is still rather difficult to understand.

Visualizing innovation procurement

- We built a web app that visualized the current and past open innovation procurement tenders

- Uses e.g. Tender electoronics daily procurement data, filters and visualizes it

Demo

Explanation of key features

- Makes it easier to find open innovation procurements and understand their requirements

- Allows users to build customized dashboard of relevant open innovation procurements

- Sophisticated search and filtering functions

TODO

- We see that our site could include other sources of open innovation as well, for example hackathon organizers

- Our app could also provide help in finding partners to organize open innovation procurement

- Points to be added
